RATES OF ADVERTISING.

Newspaper proprietors generally, and especially of this fity, under the usages and regulations heretofore prevating are called upon to perform more labor without remuneration, than any other class of community. The gratuitous publication of charity and religious advertisement, and communications, tributes of respect, abitraries, &c. &c., which can only be inserted at a heavy cost to the proprietor, imposes upon them a burden so onorous, that they feel called upon, in self-defence, to check the abuse, by making such publications a charge, to some extent at least, upon the parpublications a charge, to some extent at least, upon the parties more numediately interested.
